ChatGPT Overview

With the hype around ChatGPT, you might be wondering if it's worth learning and if your followers will notice you are not the creator of the content. But fear not! ChatGPT is actually a helpful tool to aid you in crafting social media posts, emails, blog articles, and more.

Think of ChatGPT as a partner in writing - it won't replace your unique voice but rather assist in generating ideas and providing a first draft. By inputting content you've already written and giving it commands and edits, you can train ChatGPT to align with your brand voice.

Using ChatGPT can save you time and help you focus on growing your business. It can also refine your search efforts by providing exactly what you need instead of an overwhelming number of articles.

Over 1 million content creators are currently using ChatGPT according to Open AI's recent estimate. So why not give it a try and see how it can work for you and your business?

How You Can Use ChatGPT

1. Write catchy social media captions.
2. Craft email subject lines that increase open rates.

ChatGPT Strategy

1. Learn about what ChatGPT can do: Before starting to use ChatGPT, take some time to understand what it can help you to achieve. The Ultimate AI Toolkit is chocked full of resources to help you get the most from your AI experience.

2. Develop your brand voice: Knowing who you are and how you communicate with your audience is essential to creating your brand's tone of voice. Establishing your brand voice allows ChatGPT to mimic it more accurately. Try prompts like, friendly, casual, funny, or conversational.

3. Train ChatGPT according to your brand voice: If you are a coach, start by providing ChatGPT with content that reflects your coaching style and target audience. Share articles or blog posts related to the topics your business focuses on. If you sell health products, you can provide the chatbot with articles about nutrition or wellness that your brand values.

With time, your chatbot will become more familiar with your brand's messaging and be able to provide personalized responses that resonate with your customers.

ChatGPT Strategy

- 4. Start Small: Begin with small writing projects such as social media posts or email subject lines. Practice gradually with ChatGPT by increasing the complexity of the project, until you feel confident in its ability to produce substantial results for your writing needs.
- 5. Review ChatGPT's output: Editing is key to ensuring your writing maintains your brand's unique voice. So review ChatGPT's output against your brand voice to ensure accuracy.
- 6. Monitor progress: It's important to monitor the outcome of using ChatGPT. Observe changes in engagement rates, open rates, or feedback when using ChatGPT by running AB tests. If the outcomes fall short of expectations, check your prompts and adjust them accordingly.
- 7. Continuous improvement: Within a single conversation on ChatGPT, the AI will remember what was written earlier and will use that to influence what is written with more prompts. If you need a fresh start click "New Chat".

The Ultimate AI Toolkit is your one-stop resource for most things ChatGPT now and in the future.

Prompt Suggestions

Use these prompts as a guide to create your own. You will get better AI results when you include as much detail as possible in your request.

Social Posts

Act as a holistic healer and generate a social post that talks about all-natural biohacking. The post should explain what biohacking is without being technical and it should also explain the benefits of all-natural biohacking. The content should invite the reader to download my free report “Biohacking Made Simple and Easy”.

Act as a network marketing professional and generate 10 days of original motivational quotes for entrepreneurs that I can use as social media posts on Facebook and Instagram. The quotes should encourage people to continue to take action in their business. By action I mean don't give up, make the call, keep grinding, check off that to-do list etc. The quotes should be no longer than 8 words. Again these should be original posts that cannot be found by an online search.

Prompt Suggestions

Email Marketing

Act as a network marketing professional and create a 7-series email marketing campaign. The first email should deliver my freebie. The 2nd email should confirm they got my freebie and share a rags-to-riches story. The 3rd email should share a powerful network marketing tip and encourage them to join my Facebook group. And the remaining 4 emails should tell share tips on how to succeed in network marketing and encourage them to schedule a free 15-minute discovery call with me.

Write email copy for people to watch my video about "10 Ways To Increase Your Online Influence"

Video Script

Create a 60-second video script to tell people about all-natural biohacking and schedule a chat with me to get a free biohacking gift. Include image suggestions with the script.

Create a 60-second video script to entice people to schedule a call with me to discuss using Facebook ads in their business. Also, provide image suggestions.
